GUIDANCE NOTES – EXCLUSIONS FROM EMPTY PROPERTY RATES

All domestic properties whether occupied or empty, are liable for rates. If a property is empty there are a number of exclusions that may apply and these are listed below.

Please ensure you complete all relevant sections of the application form and provide us with evidence of how you or the property meets the requirements of the exclusion.

- The owner(s) are in care (nursing home, residential care or hospital): This applies when all the current owners of the property live in a nursing home, residential care home or hospital as their main home and when they last occupied the empty house it was their sole or main residence.

- The owner(s) are in detention: This applies when all the current owners of the property are detained (due to, for example, a court order) and have their main residence there. When they last occupied the empty house it must have been as their sole or main residence.

- The owner is subject to a bankruptcy order: This applies when the property entitled to possession is subject to a bankruptcy order within the meaning of Parts 1 and VIII to X of the Insolvency (Northern Ireland) Order 1989.

- Trustee under a deed of arrangement: This applies when the person entitled to possession does so only in their capacity as a trustee under a deed of arrangement to which Chapter 1 of Part VIII of the Insolvency (NI) Order 1989 applies.

- Company in administration: This applies to a company in administration within the meaning of paragraph 2 of Schedule B1 to the 1989 Order or is subject to an administration order made under the former administration provisions within the meaning of Article 2 or the Insolvency (2005 Order) (Transitional Provisions and Savings) Order (Northern Ireland) 2006; or a company which is subject to a winding up order made under the 1989 Order or which is being wound up voluntarily under that Order.

- Liquidator: This applies where the person entitled to possession does so only in their capacity as liquidator by virtue of an order of the Insolvency (Northern Ireland) 1991 or is subject to a building preservation notice within the meaning of Article 42A of that Order.

- Property is a listed building: This applies when any building or part of a building comprising the property or part of it is included in a list compiled under Article 42 of the Planning (Northern Ireland) Order 1991 or is the subject of a building preservation notice within the meaning of Article 42A of that Order.

- Property is a historic monument: This applies when any building or part of a building comprising the property or part of it is included in the Schedule of monuments compiled under Article 3(1) of the Historic Monuments and Archaeological Objects (Northern Ireland) Order 1995.

- Personal Representatives of a deceased person: The person who owns the property does so only in their capacity as the personal representative of the former owner who is now deceased. An exclusion may be awarded from the date of the deceased person’s death until the date the deceased person’s estate is settled through probate.

- The owner is a member of the liquidator’s personal representatives: This applies when any building or part of a building a new road.

- The owner is subject to a winding up order: This applies when all the current owners of the property are subject to a winding up order made under the 1989 Order or which is being wound up voluntarily under that Order.

There are a number of exclusions that apply to empty properties and generally the person entitled to possession, usually the owner, will have to apply for this and provide the supporting evidence. Please complete in CAPITAL LETTERS using black ink.

GUIDANCE NOTES – EXCLUSIONS FROM EMPTY PROPERTY RATES

All domestic properties whether occupied or empty, are liable for rates. If a property is empty there are a number of exclusions that may apply and these are listed below.

Please ensure you complete all relevant sections of the application form and provide us with evidence of how you or the property meets the requirements of the exclusion.

• The owner(s) are in care (nursing home, residential care or hospital): This applies when all the current owners of the property live in a nursing home, residential care home or hospital as their main home and when they last occupied the empty house it was their sole or main residence.

• The owner(s) are in detention: This applies when all the current owners of the property are detained (due to, for example, a court order) and have their main residence there. When they last occupied the empty house it must have been as their sole or main residence.

• Occupation is prohibited by law: The person entitled to possession is prohibited by law from occupying it or allowing it to be occupied.

• Occupation is prohibited due to actions of a public body: The person entitled to possession is prevented by a public body from occupying the property or allowing it to be occupied. Alternatively, the public body may intend to acquire (vest) the property and support a public works scheme such as building a new road.

• Property is a listed building: This applies when any building or part of a building comprising the property or part of it is included in a list compiled under Article 42 of the Planning (Northern Ireland) Order 1991 or is the subject of a building preservation notice within the meaning of Article 42A of that Order.

• Property is a historic monument: This applies when any building or part of a building comprising the property or part of it is included in the Schedule of Monuments compiled under Article 3(1) of the Historic Monuments and Archaeological Objects (Northern Ireland) Order 1995.

• Personal Representatives of a deceased person: The person who owns the property does so only in their capacity as the personal representative of the former owner, who is now deceased. An exclusion may be awarded from the date of the deceased person’s death until the date the deceased person’s estate is settled through probate.

• The owner is subject to a bankruptcy order: This applies when the person entitled to possession is subject to a bankruptcy order within the meaning of Parts 1 and VIII to X of the Insolvency (Northern Ireland) Order 1989.

• Trustee under a deed of arrangement: This applies when the person entitled to possession does so only in their capacity as a trustee under a deed of arrangement to which Chapter 1 of Part VIII of the Insolvency (NI) Order 1989 applies.

• Company in administration: This applies to a company in administration within the meaning of paragraph 2 of Schedule B1 to the 1989 Order or is subject to an administration order made under the former administration provisions within the meaning of Article 2 or the Insolvency (2005 Order) (Transitional Provisions and Savings) Order (Northern Ireland) 2006; or a company which is subject to a winding up order made under the 1989 Order or which is being wound up voluntarily under that Order.

• Liquidator: This applies where the person entitled to possession does so only in their capacity as liquidator by virtue of an order made under Article 98 or Article 123 of the Insolvency (Northern Ireland) Order 1989.

• Foyle, Carlingford and Irish Lights Commission: This applies where the person entitled to possession is the Foyle, Carlingford and Irish Lights Commission.

Further information on the above exclusions can be found in the Rates (Unoccupied Hereditaments) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2011.
